

Our NHS Heroes

BOOKS TO READ WITH THIS TOPIC

Florence Nightingale

Florence Nightingale was born in Italy on the 12th May 1820. Her father did not want her to become a nurse but she did in 1853. She was known as 'the lady with the lamp' because she would walk around the wards at night checking on the soldiers.

Mary Seacole

Mary Seacole was born in Jamaica in 1805. She wanted to treat the soldiers in the Crimean War but wasn't allowed. She decided to go anyway and set up her own British hospital. She treated soldiers from both sides of the war.

Edith Cavell

Edith Cavell was born in England on the 4th December 1865. She trained to be a nurse in 1896. She was arrested for saving soldiers from both sides of World War One.

nurse

doctor

Crimean War

Nazi

World War II

medicine

timeline

National Health Service (NHS)

conflict

hygiene

uniform

hospital

